FATE OF SCHOONER STILL UNCERTAIN

Two Tugs Standing By, and Cutter Will Again Attempt to Float Vessel.

Wilmington, N. C., December 28.— With the abatement of the storm prevailing along the Carolina coast the past several days, and the falling of the high seas which have been running the ultimate fate of the schooner Savannah, from Jacksonville, Fla., to Portland, Me., from which the captain and crew of eight men were rescued by life-savers Friday night in the teeth of the gale, is problematical. The revenue cutter Semholie passed in Cape Fear harbor early this morning, and was aware of the schooner's presence on Frying Pan, but returned at once with captain Gould and crew, who sought to recover some of their personal effects. However, the vessel was pounding heavily, mizzen rigging gone, and she was full of water, the heavy seas and gale of the preceding night having cut her. The vessel and her cargo are complete wrecks and a part of the deckload of lumber is gone. The Wilmington tug cutter and gladiator are standing by the vessel and endeavoring to float her. The cutter is making a valiant effort to float her, but the work of the week, and will make a further effort to float her, failing in which the deckload will be destroyed as a measure to navigation. The Savannah is 494 tons net register, was built in 1901, and is owned by Deering Whitlow & Co., of Portland, Me.

TWO WITNESSES STILL MISSING

Put Squarely Up to Head of Detective Bureau to Find Them.

New York, December 28.—The police search for George E. Sipp and Thomas J. Jordan, Curran committee witnesses who told of paying protection money to Policemen Eugene Fox, continued today without finding either of the two men. Commissioner Waldo called second Deputy Commissioner DeLoach into his office this morning and instructed him to find the two men.
Through the action of Commissioner Waldo this morning, it is put up to the head of the detective bureau to find the men who are wanted as witnesses.

The district attorney's office still is engaged, as it has been since the testimony of Sipp, in seeking corroboration of his story, which will hold a grand jury.

Ex-Commissioner of Accounts Raymond B. Fosdick will sail from New York on January 4 to make a study of the police departments of all the chief European cities on the continent.
Through the action of Commissioner Waldo this morning, it is put up to
the head of the detective bureau to find the men who are wanted as witnesses.

Mrs. Mary Goode has been forced to move from the apartment house where she has been living on West Forty-second Street, because—as her friends give the reason—she was "designed constantly by policemen and detectives." She moved this morning, and the few friends to whom she confided her new address refused to give it out.
After she had left the apartment house, these friends said, six policemen came, one or two at a time, looking for her.

A TRUE STATEMENT ABOUT A RICHMOND BOY

A prominent young man, the main support of his family, secured employment in a distant State that would enable him to better provide for his mother and sisters.
He returned to his Richmond home for the Christmas holidays. After spending a delightful week he left in the best of health and spirits to resume his duties.

A few days later a telegram came announcing the sudden death of this young man, and asking instructions as to the disposition of his body.

His family being without means, the question was, "HOW WERE THE EXPENSES TO BE MET?" A friend assured the family that the boy's body should be brought home and he would assume the expense.

The next morning they found an insurance policy on the life of this young man for $5,000, on which only one premium had been paid. This insurance policy relieved the embarrassing situation, and also secured a comfortable home for this deserving family.

This protection is within reach of every one, and can be secured from sixteen to sixty years of age. Quarterly premiums for $1,000 from $2.81 to $11.08, further reduced by large annual dividends, in my company, with assets $77,783,777.00, surplus $10,- 595,592.00. Let me explain these liberal contracts to you and protect your family as this young man protected his.

The lowest premiums of any American company paying annual dividends.

CELEBRATION BY MASONIC LODGES

Festival of St. John the Evangelist Is Appropriately Observed.

DEATH OF DR. C. C. DANIEL

No New Developments in Safe Robbery Matter—Other Petersburg News.

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, 5 Bollingbrook Street (Telephone 1455).
Petersburg, Va., December 28.— The festival of St. John the Evangelist was appropriately observed last night by the three Masonic lodges in this city, the exercises being under the auspices of Blandford Lodge, No. 5, of which J. W. Hays is worshipful master. Ceremonies, according to the ritual, were first held in the lodge room, at the conclusion of which an adjournment was taken to the banquet hall, where a splendid spread was in readiness. The worshipful masters of the three lodges presided at the tables, and Worshipful John W. Friend acted as toastmaster. Numerous sentiments were proposed and responded to.
Speeches were made by J. W. Hays, J. N. Harrison, James B. Blanks, the Rev. James A. McClure and others, and the evening was most pleasantly passed.

Died of Paralysis.
Virginius S. Bain, who was stricken with paralysis yesterday, died this morning about 6 o'clock at his home on Mercer Street. This was his second stroke. Mr. Bain was the son of the late E. B. Bain, of this city. He was in his thirty-seventh year and unmarried. He is survived by one brother—George W. Bain, of Dumbarton, Va.— and two sisters—Mrs. Thomas M.
Mussen, of Richmond, and Mrs. W. D.
Broadwell, of this city.

Death of a Physician.
Dr. Charles C. Daniel, a native of Prince George, and son of James E.
Daniel, of that county, died yesterday at his home in Tazewell County, of typhoid fever. He was twenty-eight years old, and is survived by his wife and two children. The body will be brought to his old home, and the funeral will take place from Shiloh Church to-morrow. Dr. Daniel was widely known and connected in Prince George.
He was a practicing physician in Tazewell, and an assistant surgeon of the Norfolk and Western Railway.

No New Developments.
There were no new developments to-day in the matter of the recent safe robbery at the store of Rodgers, McCabe & Co., which the police have under investigation. All of the stolen bonds have been recovered at a point where they were thrown away by the thief, but the money (about $49), the gold watch and diamond ring are still missing. The two colored porters, Raymond Trainor and Edward White, arrested on suspicion of complicity in the robbery, have been discharged, and the thief, with his booty, is still at large.

Unique Christmas Entertainments.
The Christmas tree entertainment last night at Market Street M. E.
Church, for the benefit of the Sunday School, was one of the most unique and best of its kind ever given in this city. The platform was so arranged as to represent a snow-covered forest occupying the center. The program of the evening embraced marches, drills and tableaux, in which about sixty children and young women took part, presenting beautiful scenes. "Santa Claus Land" and "Santa Claus himself" were the person of J. W. Hays, a part of whose duty was to distribute gifts to every member of the Sunday School. The evening was one of rare enjoyment to every one of the large assemblage present.

Boy Accidentally Shot.
Tommy Pond, the nine-year-old son of Mrs. Eddie Pond, was accidentally shot and seriously wounded by a little playmate, Henry H. Hays, who was in the person of J. W. Hays, a part of whose duty was to distribute
gifts to every member of the Sunday School. The evening was one of rare
enjoyment to every one of the large assemblage present.

Elevator Accident.
Henry Hays was assisting in the work of putting in the elevators of the new Mechanics' Association Building, had one of his feet badly hurt, and narrowly escaped being killed. He was almost torn from the work on the freight elevator his foot, which extended over the side, was caught by the passing passenger elevator and partly crushed. The shoe was almost torn from the foot. Mr.
Barker's ankle was also sprained.

Personal and General.
Rev. Mr. Cooper, D. D., of the First Baptist Church, who has recently been preaching a series of highly interesting sermons on "Religion in the Home," will to-morrow night preach on the subject of "New Year's Resolutions."

A thief entered the front door of the residence of W. P. Johnson, on Marshall Street, last night, and stole his coat.

On the first Thursday night in February, the wives, daughters and sisters' degree will be conferred by Right Worshipful James B. Blanks.
